

DIPLOMA THESIS EXAM ISAD - QUESTIONS

OBLIGATORY COURSES:

1. Realist paradigm in International Relations/International Security studies.
2. Liberal Paradigm in International Relations/International Security studies.
3. Constructivist Paradigm in International Relations/International Security studies.
4. The level of analysis and the agent-structure problems in International Relations.
5. The phenomenon of migration – its roots and consequences.
6. Soft, hard, smart power in international relations.
7. Evolution of international system 1945-1989.
8. Evolution of international system since 1989.
9. Economic development theories and models.
10. Social capital and economic development.

TRACK: INTERNATIONAL SECURITY

1. Problem of state fragility and dysfunctionality.
2. Foundations and development of modern human rights protection system.
3. Law of belligerent occupation.
4. Protection of cultural property during armed conflicts.
5. Four pillars of counterterrorism policy.
6. The European Union's cooperation in preventing and combating terrorism.
7. State sovereignty from the perspective of the Responsibility to Protect
8. Five main trends in the 21st century armed conflicts.
9. External and domestic functions of armed forces.
10. Role of international institutions in crisis management.

TRACK: INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

1. Different models of immigration policies – case studies.
2. Global economic governance – understanding and challenges.
3. Global financial governance – understanding and challenges.

4. Main causes of the World Trade Organization crisis
5. International aid - dilemmas and challenges.
6. Developing countries in world trade - major trends.
7. Fair trade – history and implementation.
8. Growth, poverty and inequality mean in the post-Washington Consensus era.
9. International actors of post-conflict reconstruction and development (PCRD) and challenges of their engagement in the post-conflict country.
10. Civil-military cooperation with respect to humanitarian aid and post conflict reconstruction.